

Page 1 of 4

Pita-Pan ties his blue rope and hopes to reach the summit before the evening light turns gold. Today he wants to prove he can climb alone.

Page 2 of 4

On a narrow ledge, he finds a younger goat frozen with fear. The quickest path continues upward, but Pita anchors the rope beside her.

Page 3 of 4

Inside a cold cloud, they cannot see the trail. Pita asks his new partner to listen for the bell at the peak, and she leads by sound.

Page 4 of 4

They reach the summit as the valley glows below. Pita did not prove he could climb alone; he discovered how far two careful climbers can go.

Questions for Pita-Pan’s Mountain Climb

Read the story together first. Use the page prompts and the questions after reading. Answers are below the dotted line: fold them under or cover them while reading.

Page 1

Talk together: What does Pita-Pan want to prove?

Page 2

Talk together: What choice does Pita make on the ledge?

Page 3

Talk together: How does the younger goat help in the cloud?

Page 4

Talk together: How has Pita’s idea of success changed?

After reading 1

Why did Pita-Pan stop on the ledge?

After reading 2

How did the younger goat guide them through the cloud?

Answers (fold under before reading)

After reading 1: To help a frightened younger goat.

After reading 2: She listened for the summit bell.

Free to read online and print: snackpackuniverse.com/read